ON THE ANXIOUS SEAT.

The Retrenchment Policy of the Missouri Pacific to be Applied Here Today.

The Missouri Pacific railway boys are passing a sleepless night. Their sleep is not haunted by the most pleasant dreams that usually fit through the brain of honest toilers. On the contrary they are dreaming of decapitating blocks and headmen's axes. They feel like soldiers before an expected deadly battle and are wondering whether they will be among the living or the slain tonight.

Their uneasiness is caused by the expected arrival of General Manager Doherty here this morning. Mr. Doherty is traveling along the line doing retrenchment work and the felling is current, for some reason or other, that he will dispense with the services of a number of men here. They don't know where the blow will fall and each one has a secret suspicion that he will be one of the men who will be presented with a premature pay check.

OBNOXIOUS LOAFERS. In several places on Douglas avenue and Main street are places where certain parties resort to loaf, play checkers and otherwise amuse themselves. They frequently become a pest and nuisance to the offices and business rooms in a block. Several men congregated in a building on North Main street yesterday, occupying the stair way entrance much to the annoyance of ladies and others passing to and fro. It was resolved to put a stop to this business by several residents of the building and as a result of this conclusion the crowd got a bath from some invisible source which was in the shape of a bucket of water. The crowd dispersed in a hurry, much to the delight of several quiet observers. It is thought this rendezvous may be avoided by this crowd hereafter, if not other means will be resorted to. You will also observe in many stairways and entrances, men standing puffing a column of smoke, fairly green and poisonous, from the old pipe and the air for twenty feet is thick with the obnoxious smell, and the sidewalk and door besmeared with tobacco juice. Two days since a lady went to a dentist office and was so overcome with tobacco smoke before she arrived up stairs that she was sick and appealed to the dentist to have the nuisance abated.

This hot weather keeps the air clear and pure and if you want to indulge in luxuries of this character, adjourn to some quiet nook or out of the way place, or go home.

MARY PUT UP FIFTY. Great preparations are being made by the labor people for the big meeting that is to be held here Sunday under the auspices of the Central Labor union. The meeting will be held for the purpose of considering the proposition to give aid to the Pittsburgh coal miners that they may be able to maintain the strike till the company acceded to their demands. William A. Hings will be present and will explain the issues between the miners and mine-owners. He will also be ready to show them the earnings possibilities of the new under the old schedule.

It was the intention to have Mrs. Lease present to address the meeting and a committee called on her yesterday morning for the purpose of securing her services. She stated that it was possible she would be pleased to accept the invitation, but that she could not as she was then preparing to leave for Arkansas where she is billed for three addresses before she reaches Chautauque. She testified her sympathy with the strikers, however, by writing out a check for $50 and authorizing Judge Nessley to head a subscription list Sunday with it in her behalf.

POLICE COLE. There was this picking for the reporter at the police court yesterday morning, only two cases being on the docket.

Frank Sheldon, in response to his name, said he guessed he was a little drunk. To the best of his recollection that was his condition when Officer Dudasman made his acquaintance the night before and invited him to partake of his hospitality. He was assessed $5 and sent down stairs.

Louis E. Elbert was charged with assault by a man named Stred who it appears, makes a business of making life a burden to others. Mr. Elbert pled not guilty, and was given till 4 o'clock to prepare for trial, and Judge Babb said he himself would investigate the matter in the mean time. At 4 o'clock the case was taken up and after an hour of sifting the defendant was discharged. Judge Babb said that no man who assumed the character of a woman would find any sympathy in his court, if he did get licked.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS. General Manager Frey has issued an order making three garnishment suits against an employe in one year sufficient cause for discharge. This has often been done, but Mr. Frey says garnishment suits are becoming intolerable nuisance. He advises all employes who may be in debt, to arrange to pay their debts in installments, get out of debt, and then stay out.

General Manager Frey has arranged with a Chicago firm to supply Santa Fe conductors' uniforms for $20, brakemen's uniforms for $22.50, and porters' for $24.25. These prices are for summer uniforms. Winter uniforms are to cost $51.50, $55.25 and $57.00 respectively. The cloths to be used from the Burlington mills.

Trainmaster Charles Strohm of Arkansas City spent last night in town, the guest of Chief Clerk Homer Reynolds.

RICK OF OKLAHOMA. M. W. Rice of Marshall, Oklahoma, was in the city yesterday, passing through with a car load of cattle. Mr. Rice went into Oklahoma with the "rush" and settled sixteen miles west of Orlando on the northern line, where he has one of the best farms in Oklahoma. He says the new territory is in excellent shape, that the people are rich, the people prospering, the country developing and civilization advancing rapidly. Mr. Rice is a Populist, although he was at one time one of the best and most active Republican workers in southern Kansas. It is really a pity to see such a good fellow go astray.

SUPERINTENDENT SPEERS RETIRED. Division Superintendent Will Speers of the Missouri Pacific read at Conway Springs has been "let out" under the retrenchment policy of the Missouri Pacific railway management. The office has been abolished and the division will hereafter be under the supervision of the division superintendent at Fort Scott. The probability is, however, that Mr. Speers will be retained in the service of the company in some other capacity, as he is one of their most faithful and valuable men. He has been with the company many years.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL THIS EVENING. At the Presbyterian church, corner of Market and Douglas streets, this evening, a delightful time to all who will come. Shaw's full orchestra will furnish the music, to be accompanied by a regular program, consisting of tableaux, elocution, recitations, songs, etc. Amusement and entertainment for all. Come and have a good time. Remember the time and place.

THE CHENEY WHISKY WAR.

The state of Kansas against Joe Freedy was on trial yesterday before Judge Tucker. County Attorney House appeared for the state, assisted by Messrs. Bentley and Hatfield. The defendant was represented by Messrs. O'Bryan and Gordon. When the case was called the defense announced that they would waive a jury, and leave the case to the justice. Evidence was at once introduced in short order. It was all in and submitted to the court without argument, and the court promptly found the defendant guilty, and sentenced him to pay a fine of $100 and the costs and in addition to this gave him a jail sentence of thirty days. This is the case tried last week before Judge Tucker and a jury in which the jury was out all night and finally disagreed, one juror hanging the other eleven.

As soon as this case was disposed of the defendant appealed the case to the district court. At the termination of this case counsel, who also represent both sides in the Mart Oebel case, went over to Judge Keenan's where a motion for a new trial was pending in the case of the state of Kansas against Oebel. This motion was argued and over-ruled, and the court pronounced sentence on Oebel of a fine of $100 and costs and thirty days in jail. This case was also appealed by the defendant to the district court.

So ends another chapter in the Cheney whisky war.

A BAD RUNAWAY. Yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock a runaway occurred just east of the Santa Fe tracks, that might have been more serious than it really was. The team belonged to Henry Smith, who was engaged in hauling the Jasperite that is being taken from the street, and in coming west on Douglas, and while first east of the Santa Fe tracks, a street car came up nearly behind the horses and they became frightened. They were terribly frightened. In the vehemence of the street game, they only hit the high spots. They were anxious to get away from that street car, and they got away.

The team was being driven by George Norris, but Mr. Smith was on the wagon, and when he saw the team was unmanageable he crawled to the front part of the wagon and took one line, and the two men tested the strength of their arms with that of the horses' mouths. But they could not be stopped. They ran across the tracks and struck the tongue of the wagon against the south gate used for stopping teams from crossing the tracks when trains are approaching. The bottom part of the gate is made of heavy cast iron, but the force of the blow crushed it. The wagon was heavily loaded. Both men were thrown off. Mr. Norris on the side of the wagon, and had his foot hurt, and Mr. Smith went to the front of the wagon, but nothing was broken about the wagon but the coupling pole.

IT WASN'T WHAT IT LOOKED LIKE. E. E. Enoch is to be kangarooed in the probable case of the case for insanity. Last night, having occasion to telephone a note to the EAGLE office, he walked over to house No. 3, on Thirteenth street, and seeing no one about, he deliberately walked up to what he supposed was a telephone and rang the bell, and yelled out, "Hello, Central, give me No. 35, please."

In just a second a man grabbed him by the arm and nearly jerked him off his feet. "What in the old Harry are you doing?"

"Can't a fellow use your telephone a moment?"

Then explanations followed. Enoch said as soon as he put the transmitter to his ear he thought he heard peculiar noises, like the heavy tramping of horses feet, the clicking of buckles, and some one excitedly demanding, "Where is it?"

"Where is it?" just as he was jerked away. The fireman told the reporter that a lawyer who didn't know a telephone from a fire alarm ought to be in the insane asylum. Enoch is in it.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT. John Carter, whose residence is on North Wichita street, West side, met with a most painful and serious accident yesterday morning about 8:30 o'clock. He was in the country six miles west of town, and in the employ of a company engaged in threshing wheat. He was engaged in running a traction engine that was drawing the threshing machine to the field. In passing from the engine to the machine while it was in motion, his foot slipped and he was caught in the machinery. The result was distressing. The whole top of his right foot was terribly lacerated, all the tendons being severed. He was placed in a spring wagon immediately by his friends present and was brought to town, and taken to Dr. Davis' office, and the wounds sewed up, and every care taken to alleviate his sufferings. The doctor said it was a dreadful wound, and that it would be six or eight weeks before Mr. Carter could have any use of his foot. But he believed he could save him the perfect use of it.

A STOCK YARDS CHANGE. W. M. Paugh, who has been manager of the company known as W. M. & Underwood at the stock yards, has now succeeded to the business, good will, etc., of that firm, and will retain the same set of offices at the Exchange.

Mr. Paugh commenced at the foot of the ladder, with McJoy & Underwood, and steadily climbed up to his present position. He is well known to all the patrons of the stock yards, a thorough business man, a fine fellow personally, and there is no doubt of his success.

He is reliable and responsible, and is at the yards to stay.

HE GOES TO CHANTE. The office of resident engineer on this division of the Santa Fe has been abolished in accordance with the retrenchment policy of that road. I. B. Speed, who filled the office, however, was a good man for the Santa Fe to let loose, and he has been attached to the office at Chautauque and will have charge of the work on the Southern Kansas and Panhandle divisions. This will probably necessitate the removal of his family to Chautauque, a fact that will be regretted by their many friends in the Peerless Press.

STOCK YARDS NOTES. The weather was intensely hot at the yards yesterday, but the water was good and there was plenty of it.

James Shriver of Edmond, Oklahoma, was at the yards yesterday with a load of cattle.

N. J. Probst of Conway Springs had a load of hogs on the market yesterday.

Jacob Maloney had a bunch of nice shipping steers on the market yesterday. There was a car of horses at the yards yesterday that had been shipped from Delta, Col.

WILD WITH EXCITEMENT. George Lichtensmith of Dover, Colo., was in the city yesterday on business. He attended the recent indignation meeting held there, in which the Populist governor betrayed the identity of his tribe by making a speech that would do credit to Herr Most from a red flag standpoint. He says he never saw such excitement and that the people were fairly mad.

A JUNIOR ENDEAVOR SOCIAL.

Tonight, at the Central Christian church, the Junior Endeavor society will give a lemon social. Ice cream, lemonade and yellow cake will be served by the boys and girls, dressed in yellow, and the church will be decorated with yellow flowers.

A NEW OPERA HOUSE. Clearwater is bound to be in the swim and yesterday a deal was made to erect a nice opera house in that thriving little city. The opera house will have a seating capacity large enough to accommodate large political rallies. It will be located on the ground floor and the second story will be used as an Odd Fellows lodge.

ST. JOHN'S ENTERTAINMENT. The Young People's chapter of St. John's church will give an interesting and beautiful entertainment at the new stone church, corner of Third street and Topeka avenue, on Wednesday evening, July 19. The program will be unique and interesting—tableaux, music and social enjoyments.

MRS. DOUBLITT'S FUNERAL. The funeral of Mrs. Doublett yesterday afternoon was largely attended by the friends of the family, who attested their love for the deceased in many ways.

Another funeral was conducted at the same hour, and the two graves were dug side by side, the two services being held at the same time—a very rare occurrence.

THE CYCLE AS A MANGLER. Samuel Everett, 9 years of age, living with his parents, corner Indiana and Third, last evening had the big toe of his right foot so horribly and irreparably mangled by catching in the chain of his machine that Dr. Purdy and Pratt amputated it. The accident was caused by the wheel being thrown out of balance by a small boy passenger jumping off without warning. How's this for a "safety"?

PREPARING FOR BUSINESS. George Dold arrived home from Chicago this morning and will at once proceed to make the necessary arrangements in the packing plant preparatory for fall business.

Mr. Albert Dold who has been here the past week says that just as soon as the financial conditions and the markets will warrant, work will begin and be pushed to the full capacity of the plant. He is pleased with the outlook for a large supply and looks upon Wichita as a promising market.

IT IS ONLY IMAGINARY. Billy Smith is one of those who do not go much on the "money stringency" cry. He says that if people will look at their books they will all open their eyes in surprise when they find that they are really doing more business now than they were at the same time last year. He says that this entire hard times business is as a creature of the imagination, and as to money he is quite sure that he has as much now as he had a year ago, and he didn't win any on the election either.

WRITTEN BY A DOG. Little Fay Plummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Plummer, who live on Hydraulic avenue was bitten seriously by a vicious dog yesterday while going to a neighbors for some milk. The flesh of both hands was badly torn. The owner of the dog was probably arrested as it is said he knew it to be vicious for it attacked and bit a boy a few days before. It is strange and amusing to hear people will persist in keeping worthless and vicious curs when they are so dangerous to human life.

A LEG BROKEN. The little three-year-old girl of Mr. El. Wilson, residing on North Fifth avenue fell down stairs yesterday morning at 5 o'clock and broke her thigh. It appears that all the children, six in number were sleeping up stairs, and around the stairway there was no railing. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson slept down stairs. In the night the little one wanting something, undertook to wait on herself, and in wandering around fell with the result above stated. Dr. Davis was called and relieved her sufferings.

ODDS AND ENDS. O. J. Frost of Albuquerque, N. M., is visiting in the city. Mr. Frost is the engineer who was hurt in the wreck near Dallas, Texas, and he was given the best of what appeared in the EAGLE.

Emancipation day will be celebrated on August 4 by the colored people in royal style.

This evening the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Friends church will give a lawn social at 715 East Central avenue.

A party of young folks held a picnic at Linwood park yesterday.

Colonel Hutteman assumed charge of the internal revenue office yesterday.

THE CHILDREN AS PEACEMAKERS. The petition for divorce filed by Mrs. Crow in the district court this week has been withdrawn. The affair had a most happy termination. When it came to dividing the goods and chattels all went smoothly, it came to dividing the children, the matter ended in the best of contentions proved the balm that healed all the wounds and attracted the white dove of peace, who soon hovered over, and with her sweet influence dispelled all the clouds of ill feeling that had existed so long. The officers of the law who went to serve their papers said it was a most affecting scene, and one they will always remember.

DR. KETCHUM DEAD. Dr. L. R. Ketchum, at 2:35 this morning, passed away. He came home from Mulmully on the Fourth St. and went to bed never to rise. His ailment was a severe uremic trouble. He was given the best of care by the Knights of Pythias. Nearly all the physicians in town tried to alleviate his sufferings. Mrs. Ketchum left San Bernadino, California, at 6 o'clock today and will arrive here Saturday.

The R. P. S. held a meeting this afternoon and arranged to have the body examined. It will be held till Mrs. Ketchum arrives and the funeral will occur Saturday or Sunday.

Dr. Ketchum came here in the early spring. He had a fine education, a good education and a fine character. He was a man fitted for a leading place in life—Guthrie State Capital.

The banana peel is getting to be almost as deadly as the gun that "he didn't know was loaded." Yesterday morning a gentleman walking very leisurely along the platform at the depot, waiting for a train, accidentally slipped on a banana peel, and he went down quick as a shot. His left leg caught under him and he came within a hairs' breadth of breaking his limbs. He had to be assisted to his feet.

Colonel Pierce of Fort Scott, president of the Horological association, who has himself a vast nursery, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Pierce says that money is not scarce but that people are hoarding it and by that means are doing a great and unnecessary injustice to the various business communities of the state.

Mrs. George P. Dold and son, Victor, and Miss Lillie Mack left last night for Buffalo, N. Y., by way of Chicago. Mrs. Dold and son expect to be gone all summer. The many friends of Miss Mack look for her back this fall.

Mrs. G. St. Denis, accompanied by her grandchildren, Rufus and Paul, left Tuesday morning for Miller, O. T., for a month or two's stay.

Mr. C. E. Caswell, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, is attending the summer physical training school at Chautauque, N. Y.

Mrs. E. L. Mackenzie and Kenneth left yesterday for Chicago to visit the world's fair and the editor of the Mirror is numbered among the bachelors.

H. J. Whitley, wife and boy of Hotel Carey left for Manitou and other mountain resorts to be gone a couple of months for Mrs. W.'s health.

Miss Olie Grash who has been in Chicago during the past two months visiting the world's fair returned yesterday highly elated over what she saw in the "White City."

Mr. E. O. Abel and wife have returned from Salem, Ore. Mrs. Abel had the misfortune to lose her father a few days ago, and only reached home in time to attend his funeral Tuesday at Barton.

Mr. El. Ross, residing on Fairmount, well known to all old residents especially to the ex-soldiers, is in bad health, and unable to leave his home. The comrades are requested to call on him.

Mary N. Helvey filed a petition in the district court yesterday against Charles W. Helvey, her husband, praying for a divorce and the custody of her children. Neglect and abandonment are the causes assigned.

A. J. Weaver has left for Huntington, Pa., where he was called by the sickness of his sister and her husband. Mr. Weaver will be gone for some weeks and, if circumstances favor him, will stop at the White City for some days on his return journey.

Milton H. Kennedy died at his residence on Palisade avenue yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, of dropsy. Mr. Kennedy was 60 years old, and had been ailing for many weeks. A sad part of the story is that the widow was not expected to survive the night.

A horse having a vigorous kick a-coming made it known yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock in front of the Douglas Avenue house. The occupants had a very narrow escape from death. In the opinion of the horsemen who witnessed it, they never saw worse kicking.

Mr. Foote, who has been absent in Texas and Mexico for some time, was in the city a few days and left yesterday for Mexico City, Mo., where he will make his headquarters. Mrs. Foote and little daughter, Hazel, will leave for Kansas City tomorrow, where they will visit a few days before joining Mr. Foote at their new home.

H. J. Ford has rented the store room on the northeast corner of Lawrence avenue and Williams street, and will have his laundry in running order again next week, adding bath rooms and other conveniences to the establishment. The room is large and commodious, and the location very convenient.

Sam Gilbert left last night for Topeka to be absent a few days. When Sam goes to Topeka he is always sure to get mixed up in politics, but before he left last night he passed a resolution that he would not utter a word of politics during his trip, and he wants to see how near he can come towards accomplishing it.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL. [ORDINANCE.] WICHITA, KAN., July 13, 1893. The council met as a board of equalization on the application for the paving of Douglas avenue. Owing to the fact that the surveyors were not present, the board adjourned until July 14, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m. The clerk was instructed to notify the appraisers to be present.

Attest: L. M. Cox, Mayor. C. S. Smith, City Clerk.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. LADIES OF THE G. A. R. All ladies interested in organizing a circle in this city, are requested to be present at the Open House Saturday (tomorrow) afternoon at 3 o'clock. Some special business to transact before completing the organization.

The ladies of the Central Christian church will serve ice cream and cake at 138 North Main street, Saturday evening and afternoon.

PREVENTION OF HYDROPHOBIA. The Proper Care and Management of the Dog the Only Necessary Prevention. With many persons dogs and hydrophobia are closely associated mentally, and I recently read an article in which the author spoke of the dog as the "breeder of hydrophobia." The societies will do good by publishing actual statistics and other details bearing on the nature of this dreaded disease. I have also read arguments for the complete extermination of dogs, based on the fact that some sheep were worried. The plain preventive for rabies is the proper care and management of dogs; and for sheep-worrying, the confinement of dogs at night, which would be, indeed, a proper proceeding if no sheep existed.

A roaming dog is no more desirable than a human tramp; but no one has advocated the destruction of the human race to get rid of tramps. In attempting to spread sound views in regard to diseases that are common to man and our domestic animals, such as rabies, indirectly much information will be given to the public about the care of dogs with a view to avoiding conditions that stimulate this terrible malady.

The "mad dog" of the streets is, we know, a very rabid, and usually only a little "little" judgment, and kindly assistance to restore him to health. It is just about as reasonable to pounce on and kill a human being that falls in an epileptic fit as the majority of the dogs that are attacked and killed by an excited crowd.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Greeks Originated Medical Museums. There have been discovered among the treasures of the British museum some curious votive tablets set up in ancient Greek medical temples by grateful patients who had been cured of disease. In connection with this discovery it is of interest to know that the Greeks were the originators of museums of anatomy such as may be found in every large city, where they attract the curiosity of the country visitor and excite the apprehension of the school boy. On the island of Cos, in the Greek archipelago, now a possession of Turkey, there was a famous temple of Esculapius in charge of some skilled surgeons who expected that every patient receiving treatment there should leave behind a model in wax or other material of his diseased limb. These grew so numerous in course of time that the temple became a museum of medical students.—Chicago Post.
